

Finding My Pet

written by Alicia Grigsby

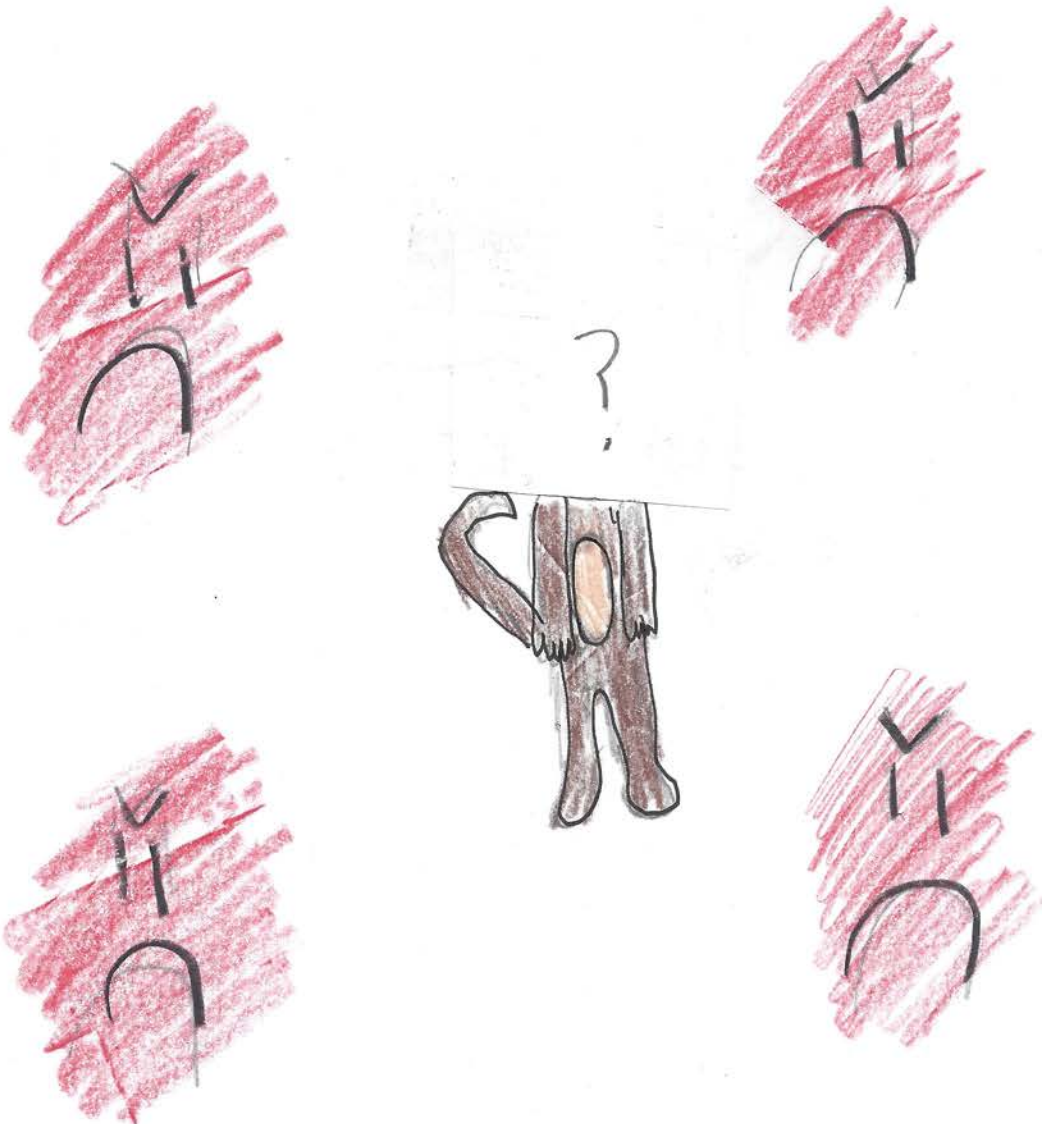

My pet is crazy that is true.
He hides all day and night too.
He goes in my coat warm delight,
but when I come in what a fright!
He jumps on the tables and the couch.
When will he stop! OUT OUT OUT!

My pet is crazy that is true.
He sometimes likes to hide in the zoo.
He throws banana peels on the floor.
The people who work there slide to the door!
Crash, bang a crash once more...

He got in trouble more than once.
It's time to go now that's enough!

My pet is crazy that is true.
He knocks down the lamps and my night gown too.
He climbs on the curtains in my house.
You are more annoying than a mouse!

I finally found him in my bed.
“It’s time to guess what I am”, he said.
To your surprise it’s the monkey, Ned!

The End

I finally found him in my bed.
“It’s time to guess what I am”, he said.
To your surprise it’s the monkey, Ned!

The End

