The Itsy-Bitsy Spider

Ladybug

Come on, read it!
One day, Ladybug was just sitting around. She was very bored. I know. I'll write a book!
But, now! Ladybug had no paper at her house and all the stores didn't have any paper too!
Humph, growled Ladybug. "What am I going to do? Then, for the second time that day, she had an idea! I'll change my book to make my own.
This is now! Now the book looks+

Crossed it out.

Spider, when ever it had a box, spider, she

Warehouse fell out the book. The ladybug sneaked into a

Night, ladybug snaked into a
Five days later, a nice ant named Ali came to visit.

"Hello," said Ladybug, "How are you?" asked Ali. "I'm fine," said Ladybug. But really she was not. She still felt the pangs of guilt from ruining the book.
Why did you change the book the Itsy Bitsy spider? Al asked? "Because I wanted to write a story, but there was no paper in the whole town!" sighed Ladybug. "Here's some paper," said Al. "Thanks," said Ladybug.
Ladybug wrote a story with the paper. Where is that story? It's the one we're reading right now!