Moo is Rude

by Finley
One day there was a cow. His name was Moo. He was looking for a date for the barn dance. So he went to look in the barn. There was a crazy chicken. Moo said, “Ick, you are gross. I need somebody pretty.” “So sorry I am not good enough for you,” said the chicken.
Next, Moo looked in the coral and there was a horse with crazy hair. She had orange, blue, and yellow hair. Moo said, “Gross, your hair is crazy.” “Well, I am sorry that I am not good enough for you,” said the horse.
Then Moo went to the pond and there was a goose. She had a pink bill. Moo said, “Ick, that is hideous!” “Well, I am sorry that I am not good enough for you,” said the goose. After that Moo went to the mud. There was a pig that was covered in mud. “Ick, that’s gross,” Moo said. “Well, I am sorry that I am not good enough for you,” said the pig.
Last, Moo looked in the barn again. He saw a cow. She was beautiful. He asked her to the dance, and she said no. You were mean to my friends. I would rather go with someone nice.
